Comments from Commissioners and/or Staff

Staff:

Commission Vacancy: There is one open position on the Historic Preservation Commission.

National Night Out: Scheduled for August 5th at Cle Elum Park, beginning at 5:00 PM.

Training Opportunities:

- NAPC Virtual Summer School: Hosted by the National Alliance of Preservation Commissions, this six-session virtual training is designed for local preservation staff and volunteers. Sessions are interactive, led by national experts, and cover current topics and tools in preservation. The cost is $65 for members. Virgil has distributed member passwords—those who haven't received one and wish to register should contact him directly.
- DAHP Academy Training: Free online sessions provided by the Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation (DAHP). Sessions are recorded and available on the DAHP website.
- PLACES 2025 Conference: The annual DAHP conference will be held October 7–10 in Gig Harbor. The event focuses on historic preservation, economic revitalization, and Main Streets. Registration is $230. This is an excellent opportunity for newcomers to learn about preservation, architecture, archaeology, and related fields.

- WISSARD Training: A WISSARD (Washington Information System for Shared Archaeological Records and Data) training with DAHP will take place during the next meeting on August 19, 2025.

Commissioners:

Commissioner Richard: Roy Susich will be presenting at the Carpenter House on July 17th at 5:00 PM as part of their ongoing speaker series.

Commissioner Henrichsen shared that he had recently attended a couple of training sessions on both WISSARD, and Design Guidelines which explored what other communities have by way of development regulations.

New Business

a. Walking Tour of the Historic District with Local Historian Roy Susich

The Commissioners participated in an educational walking tour of the Downtown Historic District led by local historian Roy Susich. The tour focused on a roughly one-block radius, spanning from Oakes Avenue to North Pennsylvania Avenue. During the walk, Mr. Susich shared historical insights and anecdotes about several key buildings and sites, both existing and no longer standing.

Notable stops included the City Hall building, the Pioneer Building, the Keg Building, and the former site of the Central Hotel. Roy discussed past uses of these buildings, previous owners, and notable architectural or cultural features. One highlight included learning how a former sporting goods store used to display the summer’s largest catch in its storefront window as a community attraction. Another story involved a longstanding local rumor about hidden money being buried in the walls of one building—an urban legend that led to multiple break-ins over the years by individuals hoping to recover the supposed treasure.

The tour provided Commissioners with valuable context about the community’s rich architectural heritage and served as a reminder of the importance of preserving both the physical structures and the local stories connected to them.

Adjournment

Commissioner Henrichsen moved to adjourn the meeting. Commissioner Hawk seconded. Motion carried. The meeting was adjourned at 3:15 p.m. and the Commission will reconvene on August 19th, 2025 at 3:00 p.m.
